

12 August 2013

Aurum Publishing Group announces appointment of new Managing Director

David Inman will be joining the Aurum Publishing Group as Managing Director at the end of September. The group is comprised of Aurum Press, Frances Lincoln, Frances Lincoln Children's Books, Jacqui Small, and Apple Press.

David is currently Sales and Marketing Director of Templar, part of Bonnier Publishing, and was previously Sales and Marketing Director at The Quarto Group Inc., Aurum Publishing Group's parent company. With over 15 years of recent experience in the trade and illustrated co-edition book sector, he has held senior management positions at Hachette in Paris and Octopus and was a co-founder of Boxtree.

Marcus Leaver, CEO of The Quarto Group Inc. said:

"David is a welcome addition to the Quarto management team. His breadth of experience in illustrated publishing and knowledge of all the parts of the Quarto business make him the perfect candidate to lead the very talented and committed team we have at the Aurum Publishing Group."

David Inman said:

"I am delighted to be returning to Quarto in this challenging new role as Managing Director of Aurum Publishing Group. I'm looking forward to setting the group on new paths of growth, creativity and innovation across all its imprints and firmly cementing its position as part of the world's leading illustrated publishing group."

For more information, please contact:

Jessica Axe - Campaigns Director Aurum Publishing Group Tel: +44 (0)20 7284 9364 jessica.axe@aurumpublishinggroup.com